TO FORGIVE IS DIVINE

We live in an advanced society. Yet have we advanced in our individual and family, happiness, peace and freedom in proportion to the advancement to other aspects of life? Why is it so?

One possible reason, I think, is that we profess more love than we actually love. We certainly have a lot of books, courses and workshops on love than ever before. But that in no way has made us more loving. Going one step further I am of the opinion that our inability to love relates to our unwillingness to forgive. In entering into any love relationship, one is actually saying that I am mature enough to forgive, because the moment we begin to love we are bound to be hurt and that is normal in any relationship. If forgiveness is so part and parcel of all our relationships, what is forgiveness?

FORGIVENESS IS CREATION:

The temptation to be God is high in us. We have used our technology well to satisfy this temptation. We are able to say, "let there be food on my table" and there is food on my table. It is immediate and instant. We want this mode of operation in all aspects of our lives. We want to say I forgive you and experience the completeness of forgiveness instantly. We need to realize that there is a difference between "making" and "creation." Forgiveness is not "making" but "creation." It is a way, where we are called to participate in the creative power of God. Creation takes time, energy, hard work, patience and goodness. All these are essential ingredients for forgiveness to be given and to be experienced. Unless I become aware of the divinity and creative power involved in forgiveness I will not have the patience or energy to create it.

FORGIVENESS IS THE FRUIT:

We all know someone who has forgiven a total stranger and someone else who could never even forgive his or her own sibling. The truth of the matter is that the one who has not experienced genuine love cannot actually forgive another person. Forgiveness is the fruit of love. Anyone who has been loved will be able to forgive another. That is the meaning of "God is love"; to err is human to forgive divine.

FORGIVENESS IS HOLINESS:

One other misconception is that I can forgive even if I have not experienced it myself. No one can give what one does not have. To give to another, one must have it within oneself. It means one must be willing to receive forgiveness both from self and from others. If I am unwilling to forgive myself or to seek forgiveness, it is impossible for me to forgive another. Forgiveness has to flow like a spring from one's own wholeness into another – creating an ocean of holiness through wholeness.

Let us be part of the Wholeness and Holiness of God

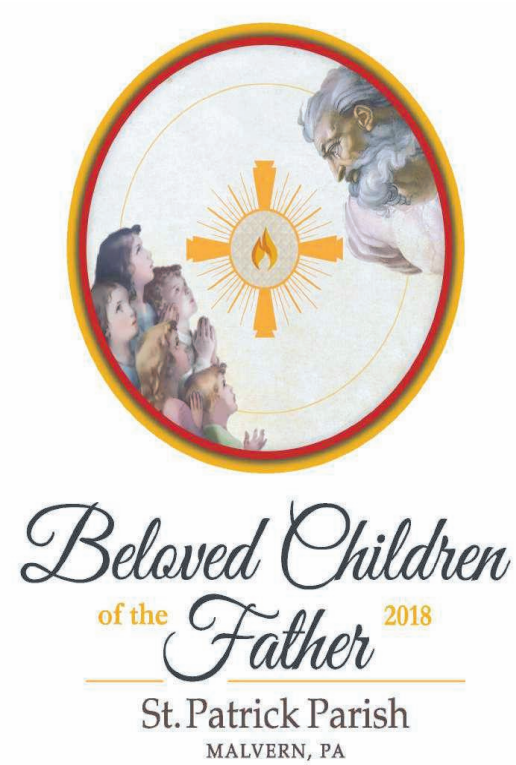
www.stpatrickmalvern.org.



Since the celebration of our 100 Anniversary in 2015, we have established themes as a focus for our parish community and a guide for our worship. These themes emphasize a particular gift or grace offered by God to assist us in our relationship with Him. As we begin this new year, I encourage each of us to embrace the 2018 theme ~

Beloved Children of the Father.

As His Beloved Children, we have been part of God's love story. He has shared His life and love with us and desires for us to rest in His embrace. Chris Stefanick, an acclaimed Catholic author and speaker, spoke about the great love story of the Catholic Church at the 2017 National Catholic Youth Conference saying, "This love story doesn't just show you who God is. It shows you who you are."

So, who are we? We are Beloved Children of the Father! Perhaps this is a new concept or view for many of us. Yet, God the Father desires for us to know that we are indeed deeply loved. The Father shares that love unconditionally and invites us to be embraced by it. We are also called to share that never-ending love with all those we meet. We are reminded of the depth of the Father's love in John's Gospel, where we read "For God so loved the world that he gave His only Son, so that everyone who believes in Him might not perish but might have eternal life."

We, as God's children, must remember we are involved in the beautiful love story of God's never-ending love for each of us.
This theme, inspired by the deep and personal love of our Father, reminds us that no matter our age—we are sons of Hope and daughters of Faith. We are beloved by Him, and asked simply to Be with Him.

I pray this year that we may come together and recognize ourselves as individuals who are truly beloved children of an infinitely loving God.

St. Patrick, pray for us!
God Bless You! –Father Redcay
