Staff Reflection

“Everyone is looking for you.”

St. Mark the Evangelist presents to us a very busy Jesus in his Gospel account. Right from the get-go of his Gospel we see Jesus healing, curing, casting out demons and preaching. We also see Jesus taking some time away from all the busyness to pray in the quiet solitude of an early morning. But even as he takes this prayer time in solitude, the world and its cares come crashing back in. “Everyone is looking for you.”

Have you ever had this experience? I’m sure you have. Those who are in roles of ministry or service professions most likely experience these moments of “everyone is looking for you.” Caretakers of the elderly or infirm also experience the demands of the needs of those for whom they care. Moms and Dads definitely experience this as their roles are that of ministering to and caring for their children who need so much from them. Often they just need those few minutes to themselves, but the children and their demands seek them out and find them.

It is comforting to know that even Jesus had these “everyone is looking for you” moments. But Jesus also models for us that no matter how busy or put upon we might be in our lives, time for prayer needs to be a part of our day. In today’s Gospel we see Jesus rising early before dawn to pray. You may find this as an optimum time as well, as it is so quiet and still and “the world” has not cranked up yet. Or, you may have your own special time or place to find the quiet solitude of prayer. Our church is open during the day for those wishing to stop in for a time of prayer, even if only a quick visit of a few quiet moments. So, when you are feeling that anxious, stressed out, stretched to the limit feeling of a very busy day... then you need to find your deserted place within your heart and spend some quiet moments in prayer. Jesus needed it and so do we.

God bless,
Sr. Eileen
