Staff Reflection

What thoughts, feelings, or memories are stirred up when you hear about Jesus as the “Good Shepherd?” Some people may be reminded of Jesus as our protector, looking after fluffy sheep. Others may think of the popular image of Jesus with a lamb draped over His shoulders. When I hear today’s Gospel about Jesus as the Good Shepherd, I think of my time teaching Religious Education at a parish on Cape Cod.

My very first Sunday getting to teach a lesson all by myself at St. Joseph Guardian of the Holy Family Parish in Falmouth, MA, I was assigned a class of 30 first graders. The topic of the day was Jesus the Good Shepherd. I was nervous to introduce such a beautiful and powerful concept to such young members of our church, but I was determined to do my best. Armed with a slide show of many colorful illustrations, I asked my students to close their eyes and imagine their very favorite toy. Some students shared that they had a favorite stuffed animal they had since they were a baby. I shared that I have one too—Lambie the stuffed lamb.

I then told them to imagine that they have misplaced their favorite toy. What would they do in response? Their hands shot up into the air, and students enthusiastically told me that they would search high and low for their toy. They were insistent that they would not cease looking until they found the toy, even if that meant they could not do other things they wanted to do. I told them that this is what Jesus does for us. He is the Good Shepherd, and He lays down His life for His sheep. He lays down His life for us, never ceasing until we are brought into the fold.

Even at six and seven years old, these faith-filled students understood what it meant that Jesus lays down His life for His sheep. May we grow in understanding and love for our Good Shepherd, restlessly seeking Him as He pursues us.

Yours in Christ,
Julia Goldschmidt

Welcome Fr. Friel!

Father David Friel, Director of Vocations to the Diocesan Priesthood for the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, will preach at our Sunday morning Masses and will celebrate the 11:30 A.M. Mass today about priestly vocations. He also will meet with some young men of our Parish in the Parish Office after the 11:30 A.M. Mass. On this Fourth Sunday of Easter, also known as Good Shepherd Sunday and the World Day of Prayer for Vocations, it is important for all of us to encourage our vocations to the Priesthood and Consecrated Life among our families and among our youth.
